

THARU MUSEUM

Chitwan's tourism and Tharu culture can be called as two wheels of a same cart. Indigenous of Chitwan, these Tharu's culture attracts external tourist a lot. Even internal tourists are attracted by these peoples' culture and living. Dances performed by these people on different occasion have always astonished the viewers. Their life style, art, traditions are keen interest of people who visit Chitwan. If we need all in one place than there is a museum in Megghauli which is a heaven for people craving for knowledge about Tharus. The costumes they wear and the tools and materials they use in their daily life are also the attraction as they are primitive yet effective.